Select Materials LLC, a bulk landscaping materials firm, has announced today that it will begin accepting dumps of brush, leaves, logs, and yard waste drop off.

FORT LUPTON, UNITED STATES, September 29, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Select Materials LLC, a bulk landscaping materials firm, has announced today that it will begin accepting dumps of brush, leaves, logs, and yard waste drop off from local area residences and contractors. This effort is to help local property owners by providing a green outlet for their yard wastes.

All the materials delivered will be ground up and composted over multiple months until a fresh and sustainable compost product has been produced. This service will be provided to all contractors and individuals in the front range area of Denver. All that is required is that the yard waste be free of trash and plastics. Deliveries will be accepted Monday through Friday from seven am till four pm each week.

Select Materials a Colorado company, is a producer of topsoil, sand, compost, mulch, stone, and other various landscaping materials. Select Materials offers landscaping products to contractors at discounted rates. The firm specializes in the bulk wholesale delivery of these products by the truck load. Select Materials greatest attribute is its ability to produce custom products and topsoil blends that meet customers exact specifications.
