

Wood4Floors Sales Top 2 Million Square Meters of Wood Flooring

London Based wood4floors - large sales from its Forest Hill Showroom and Warehouse

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, October 7, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Wood4Floors set up a London showroom almost 20 years ago with the aim of supplying and installing wood floors to customers across the capital. After all these years of installing wood floors for all kinds of customers, the company has topped 2 million square meters of wood flooring sold. During that time, many happy customers have made use of their flooring products and used their expert installation services.

By sourcing wooden flooring from around the world, Wood4Floors has been able to broker impressive deals at prices that represent value for money. By passing savings onto customers, the company has managed to appeal to people looking for strong and attractive flooring that doesn't come with a heavyweight price tag. This is one of the key reasons why that incredible benchmark of 2 million square meters of wood flooring sold has been reached before the company even turned 20-years-old.

we strongly believe in the quality and durability of German wood flooring - Producers that originally began life as small family firms and have grown into world class companies”

Mike Kildea owner

Although they work with suppliers and manufacturers around the world, they're particularly proud of their connections with German partners.

Wood4Floors have been distributing and promoting technologically advanced German wood flooring products for a number years. These are all high quality products with new hi-tech breakthroughs in wear – durability – easy of fitting – silence and innovative product construction

Many of the companies Wood4Floors work with to this day are small and family-run firms that believe in offering the best to their customers. Others are companies that began life as family firms. These values are present in the business itself too. They pledge to serve customers, and that's evident in the installation services that are regarded very highly by customers and industry figures alike. Expert care and attention is needed to install real wood flooring in the right way, and no corners are cut by the company in this regard.

One of the major attractions of Wood4Floors wood flooring products to customers are the wholesale prices. The competitive rates are hard to beat, and that inevitably attracts more customers. Their website is easy to browse, and it's here that customers can first get a feel for what the company offers. But the star of the whos is the company's London Showroom. This is the hub of the company, and it's home to so many different types of wood floors waiting to be viewed and selected by customers. This is where many of those sales that have contributed towards that 2 million square meters total were made.

The people running Wood4Floors have been working in this industry for more than 35 years. The company's London showroom was opened in 1998 and has grown steadily and continually since then. Each member of the team at Wood4Floors is Flooring Guild qualified, and their track record backs up their promises and commitments to customers. A plethora of wood floor varieties can be found on display and ready to purchase inside their showroom. And these options can be browsed online via their website too.
