Amaryllis is finally bringing the industry the model of “What Good Looks Like” in supporting marketplaces, payment facilitators, and other 3rd party complex payment models”

Mark Bishopp, Amaryllis CEO

“We’re beyond thrilled to announce the PYMNTS.com Top 10 ranking and strategic partnership with a Top 5 US acquirer” said Mark Bishopp, Amaryllis’ CEO. “This truly validates that Amaryllis is finally bringing the industry the model of “What Good Looks Like” in supporting marketplaces, payment facilitators, and other 3rd party complex payment models. We are now the ONLY software provider that has experience from both sides of the table and are uniquely positioned to be a trusted advisor serving this market.”

“As a former consultant, I love whiteboard sessions where I can sit down with potential clients and partners to map out business models and talk about different solutions, even it not our own. After hearing the challenges many companies face in looking behind the marketing claims and asking the right questions, our team has decided to develop a series of best practices and key questions to help the industry move forward. Our first event will be a CEO Open Chat on Oct 19 where folks can ask me anything on their mind.”
