PCIHIPAA, a leading HIPAA compliance solution provider, was named one of 2017's Top 10 Healthcare Solution Providers by Healthcare Tech Outlook.

SANTA MONICA, CA, UNITED STATES, October 11, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ --

Patient care is advancing in ways that promise great dividends to both healthcare providers and technology developers. In order to make healthcare more successful, profitable and responsive to patient needs, healthcare organizations are leveraging the power of technology to ensure compliance by changing healthcare trends, guidelines, laws, and government regulations. In fact, The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services' Office for Civil Rights has conducted random HIPAA audits in 2017, because of the rising number of claims that protected health information has been compromised. As the Office for Civil Rights has become more aggressive with HIPAA enforcement, large settlements have become widespread, and penalties for HIPAA noncompliance are now a recurring reality.

It is imperative for healthcare providers to understand the nature of compliance related risk, where it occurs, and how to avoid it. Medical and dental practices require healthcare compliance providers to develop, organize, manage, modify and direct their compliance strategies to ensure they are abiding by all of the new rules and regulations.

After examining multitudes of healthcare compliance providers for their strengths and capabilities, a team of distinguished CIOs, CEOs, analysts and the Healthcare Tech Outlook editorial board has named their Top 10 Healthcare Compliance Solution Providers for 2017. "We take pride in honoring PCIHIPAA for providing innovative solutions that are revolutionizing the way the industries that are serving in the Healthcare Compliance arena," said Alex D'Souza, Managing Editor of Healthcare Tech Outlook.
