VMUG Announces Tech Superstar Line-up for Upcoming Boston UserCon

The event will include sessions on exciting VMware announcements and integrations like Amazon Web Services.

BOSTON, MA, USA, October 11, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- NASHVILLE — The VMware User Group (VMUG) (http://www.vmug.com/) is excited to announce the lineup for the Boston UserCon later this month. The event will include keynote presentations by Matt Broberg, VP of Community at Sensu Inc.; and Brian Graf, Senior Technical Marketing Manager at VMware; along with sessions on exciting VMware announcements and integrations like Amazon Web Services.

In the opening keynote, Matt Broberg will take attendees spelunking down the promises of Docker, abstractions of Kubernetes, the dominance of public cloud, APIs of Serverless, licenses of Open Source and see what's left for a sysadmin with your skills and experiences. You'll DevOps hard, discuss the SRE's problem space, think about Developer Advocacy and see what's left for the IT admin. You may be surprised just how ready you are for it all.

The lunch keynote will be led by Brian Graf, Senior Technical Marketing Manager at VMware. VMware just announced the Initial Availability of VMware Cloud on AWS, a joint offering between the leading on-prem virtualization company and the leading public-cloud company. This keynote will discuss what VMware Cloud on AWS is, how it differs from every other offering, integrations between VMs and AWS services, and more. You do not want to miss this session!

Graf will also be leading one of the closing sessions. In this seminar, he'll discuss how to master productivity and achieve success in an IT career. As great as technology is, it can also be counter-productive. Join Graf as you walk through productivity hacks and best practices to allow you to break through the barriers that get in your way of being successful.

In addition to these speakers, attendees will have the opportunity to interact with vendors, sponsors, and partners in the Exhibit Hall and participate in a variety of other technical sessions from VMware and community experts!
