

Tekki Web Solutions Unveils Redesigned Website With an Exciting Diwali Offer on All Packages.

TWS launches exciting Diwali offer on web/mobile apps design and development at lowest prices to delight their customers on the festive season.

SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, October 13, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Tekki Web Solutions is a full-service design agency. With the launch of the redesigned website, TWS launches exciting Diwali offer on web/mobile apps design and development at lowest prices to delight their customers on the festive season.

Tekki Web Solutions has many successes since its conception in 2010. From the initial stage of its incredibly successful starter campaign, TWS started with the bang and continues to do so. With so many exciting things to come in future, TWS strives to showcase original design and developments including a mobile-first approach to gain more exposure.

Tekki Web Solutions is proud to announce a brand new, mobile-friendly, sleek and streamlined website. Here are the elements that have been featured on a website is listed as follows.

Clean User Interface

The new website offers a clean, intuitive and easy to use interface. Finding information about product and services has been so easy using updated navigation structure for mobile and web. Before website doesn't have a mobile menu for its services that increase bounce rate of the website. Without any noise or unnecessary fluff, TWS shines the spotlight on their innovative design technology.

Tws has done hard work to improve their website page load speed. Page load speed of website really has that much effect on your sales. Even if your site is not loading too slowly, but it should be much faster as the user expect to get all the information within 3-5 seconds.

According to the survey done by Akamai and Gomez, nearly half of web users expect a site to load in 2 seconds or less or they tend to abandon the site that is not loaded in 3 seconds. 79% of users who have trouble with website performance say, they won't return to the website that they have the bad experience and 44% of them would tell a friend if they had the bad experience on the website.

This means you are not only losing conversion from visitors currently on your site, but the loss is magnified to their friends and colleagues as well. So, this few second results leads to lots of potential sales down. So, our team has worked hard to improve page load speed of the website to increase new business opportunity.

Call to Action

Call to action is always should be placed on top of the website that user can easily find out. Let's say, if you to a website and saw a "Launch" CTA accompanied by the copy, Do not press, what would you do? Let's be honest, you will dying to press that button. So, that type of call to action encourages visitors to react on it. In our case, people are excited to know about our business and searching for solutions that how can we help them. Our team has done some research on it, to make our enquiry process more efficient using popup form on the screen, that user doesn't have to wait for another page to be loaded.
