'Catching Sight of Thelma & Louise' screens at LA Femme International Film Festival, which features content created by women producers, writers, and directors from around the world. The 13th Annual Festival is held at Regal Cinemas at LA LIVE and runs from October 19 – 22, 2017. 'Catching Sight of Thelma & Louise' screens Thursday, October 19th at 2:00 pm. Tickets may be purchased at <http://www.lafemme.org/tickets/>

Earlier this week Townsend was interviewed on KUCI radio program 'Get the Funk Out' by host Janeane Bernstein. Townsend discussed her both her film and passion for starting conversations that can change the world.

'Catching Sight of Thelma & Louise' is an award-winning documentary about how women experience the world. Clips from 'Thelma & Louise' serve as a catalyst for intimate stories by viewers who saw the film in 1991 and shared their feelings in personal letters at that time. The same women and men were located 25 years later to revisit their reactions to the iconic film.

Townsend, a Seattle filmmaker, traveled around the country to make the film over a three-year period. Preview audiences praise it's authenticity, power, and ability to capture the zeitgeist of our era. The trailer, history, shared stories, and blog entries may be found on the film website at www.CatchingSightOf.com .
