NexGen Air is proud to celebrate and honor the military veterans who have served America. Through the Military Appreciation Program

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, October 24, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- NexGen Air Honors Veterans with Project X Military Appreciation Program

NexGen Air is proud to celebrate and honor the military veterans who have served America. Through the Military Appreciation Program (MAP), NexGen Air donates four HVAC systems each year to local veterans. The company believes this program provides an excellent opportunity to acknowledge and reward the bravery of men and women who have served the United States.

NexGen Air recognizes the sacrifice and courage required for these men and women to leave their families and stand on the front lines around the world, and for that, the company began to look for a way to say, "thank you."

Strong Sense of Community

NexGen Air recognizes the substantial dedication of both veterans and their families that allows our men and women to serve the country. As a proud American company, NexGen Air believes in giving back to the community through acknowledging these military families and their contributions to the people of the United States. As the land of the free and the home of the brave, NexGen Air wishes to sincerely thank the soldiers who fight for American's freedom.

By donating HVAC systems to veteran households, these families' quality of life and daily comfort improves. NexGen Air installs only the highest quality HVAC systems, providing MAP recipients with a practical and useful gift that adds value to their lives. MAP is an outward expression of the gratitude that NexGen Air's team has towards America's veteran soldiers.

NexGen Air Commemorates Veterans' Day

With draws taking place in December, Veterans' Day is the perfect time to nominate a soldier who has made a difference in serving this country. Members of the public are welcome to visit the MAP page on the NexGen Air website at www.nexgenairandheat.com/military-appreciation-program/ to nominate a soldier and their family who they believe is worthy of a new HVAC system in their home.

Through the MAP web page, American's can also read the story of NexGen Air's past MAP recipients and view videos of families who have been honored through this program. This page will continue to grow as NexGen Air's MAP prizes are awarded to veterans in in years to come. The company is dedicated to the longevity of this program and their community involvement and looks forward to improving the lives of future recipients and their families.
