Market Research Report on Personal Care
Encapsulation Materials Market

Personal care encapsulation materials are used in soaps, wrinkle creams, color cosmetics, shower gels and others. Increase in demand for cosmetics, high standards of living, strong branding and publicity campaigns for color cosmetics and rapidly increasing aging population are some of the reasons behind the favorable growth of market. Furthermore, rising demand for functional ingredients, organic, natural products will provide a significant growth opportunity for the market over the forecast period.

Based on application, color cosmetics segment is expected to grow at the highest CAGR due to changing lifestyle and substantial demand for natural and organic cosmetic products. Asia Pacific is projected to dominate the global market due to rising use of polymer ingredients and surfactants by the consumers in this region.

Some of the key players in Global Personal Care Encapsulation Materials Market include Sumitomo Corporation, Lambson Ltd, Durae Corporation, E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company, AB Specialty Silicones, BASF SE, Korea Particle Technology Inc., Biogenoci Co. Ltd. and Chongqing Pellets.
