

CWA Engineers Selects ARES PRISM For Collaboration, Change Control, and Earned Value Management

CWA Engineers has decided to implement ARES PRISM's project lifecycle management software for collaboration, change control, and earned value management.

BURLINGAME, CA, UNITED STATES, November 8, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- CWA Engineers Inc. aims to see their projects through their entire lifecycle; from conception to completion. They strive to build long-term relationships with their clients by continually providing innovative and adaptable engineering and project management solutions that meet the needs of an ever-changing global market and landscape. That is what led them to ARES PRISM.

CWA Engineers Selects ARES PRISM software

CWA Engineers has decided to implement ARES PRISM's full suite of project lifecycle management software including Cost Management, Change Management, Engineering, Procurement, Contracts Administration, and Field Progressing. In an effort to achieve collaboration while limiting duplication of effort they will be utilizing the PRISM Integrator, which will make sure all of their corporate data is brought together with PRISM as a central hub. CWA Engineers will also be taking advantage of business intelligence gained from executive dashboards in order to create a complete picture of project and program performance.

After implementing ARES PRISM, CWA Engineers will be fully scalable and able to take on larger projects while utilizing industry best practices. "We look forward to supporting CWA Engineers as they replicate their solid project management processes and procedures to achieve optimized cash flow, change control, and earned value management to name a few," remarked Geoffrey Stubson, CFO at ARES Project Management LLC.
