

TSI Introduces the New PortaCount® Respirator Fit Tester, Providing Intelligent Fit Test Solutions

TSI Incorporated, a global leader in respirator fit testing instrumentation, is pleased to introduce a new generation of PortaCount® Respirator Fit Testers.

SHOREVIEW, MN, UNITED STATES, November 16, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- TSI Incorporated, a global leader in respirator fit testing instrumentation, is pleased to introduce a new generation of PortaCount® Respirator Fit Testers. Combining the industry's best respirator fit test with industry-first features, the new PortaCount platform is designed to provide intelligent fit test solutions across your entire respiratory protection program.

Featuring real time FitCheck™ Mode and fit test animations, the new PortaCount Fit Tester provides staff with a better understanding of how respirators fit while helping test administrators be more productive. PortaCount Fit Testers uniquely combine real-time and real-world measurements to advance respirator safety beyond what any other fit test can deliver. No other instrument can provide one consistent and objective testing experience across any respirator, from full-facepiece respirators to all N95 masks.

"Building on the PortaCount Fit Tester's long tradition of excellence, we're excited about the new tools that will help our customers enhance the safety of their employees while improving their fit test productivity," states Troy Tillman, TSI Business Director.

The new PortaCount Respirator Fit Tester is shipping now! Learn more at www.tsi.com/portacount4.
