

Pipe Retailer Wants More People to 'Light Up' for the Holidays

Company plans to offer free shipping, free pipes to holiday shoppers

SEATTLE, USA, November 20, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Novelty Pipes, the premium Internet retailer of fun tobacco hand pipes, wants people to get their smoke on this holiday season. To this end, the site has two promotions in store for customers starting mid-November and ending in December. The first promotion the company is offering is free shipping on all items.

Company CEO, Mike Jones said, “No matter if you buy one thing or choose several of the pipes for sale on our site this holiday season, shipping is on us.”

Jones said that offering free shipping was a first for the company. He said the company is offering the promotion because it wants to eliminate a barrier that comes with online shopping. The move is also in response to customer feedback.

“Our regular shipping prices aren't exorbitant. We usually charge $5 flat rate shipping around the world, but customers have told us that they'd love to have that $5 go toward another pipe instead of shipping.”

In addition to offering free shipping, the company will also be giving away a number of novelty pipes to loyal consumers this holiday season.

“We have a contest that will run for a whole month -- from Nov. 20 to December 20,” said Jones.

Each week, Novelty Pipes will give away a pipe to a random entrant. The contest will be completely free to enter. All entrants will need to provide is their name and e-mail address. People will be able to gain additional entries by sharing the contest on social media.

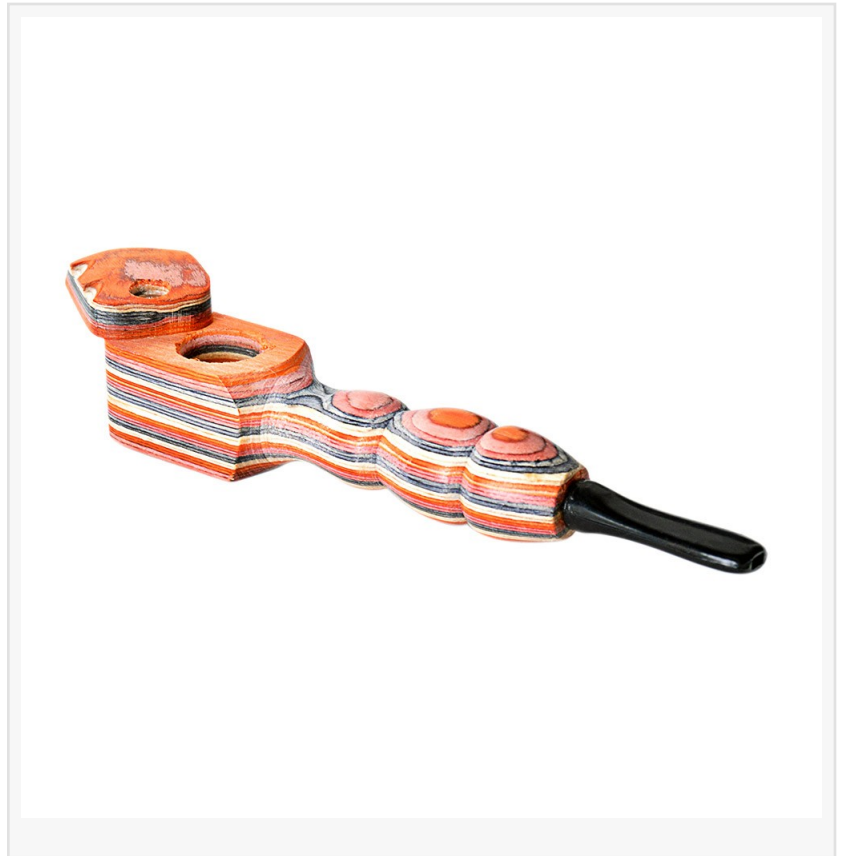

“Contest winners can think of it as a Christmas gift from us to them,” Jones said. “We will take care of shipping and all that. The only thing we won't be providing is what you put in your pipe.”

About Novelty Pipes

At Novelty Pipes, we think that smoking should be enjoyable, so we offer a full range of pipes — wood, stone, metal, stealth — that are not only practical (i.e. good for smoking), but really fun and cool.
