About Commercial Tortilla Grills and Presses

Commercial tortilla presses are used to compress the tortilla dough into desired shapes and sizes for tortillas. Commercial tortilla grills are mainly used to cook tortillas, which are already shaped into desired sizes. They are also used to warm tortillas that are already cooked. These tortillas are then used to prepare various Mexican food items such as tacos and burritos in foodservice establishments.

Technavio's analysts forecast the global commercial tortilla grills and presses market to grow at a CAGR of 3.54% during the period 2017-2021.
