

Introducing Orblue's New Durable, Long-Lasting Taco Holder

MIAMI, FL., UNITED STATES, November 22, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The newly launched Taco Stand has a stainless steel body that provides long lasting shine, anti-corrosive ability, and a scratch resistant surface, making it the perfect choice for busy families.

Orblue, located in Miami USA, is working every day on new innovations to make kitchen life easier. The company, founded in 2013, has now launched a Taco Holder, a new addition to a variety of products that the company offers to save time and effort. Available at Amazon.com for just $15.97, the 3-pack Taco Stand by Orblue comes with three slots each for holding tacos, while it can be flipped over to have four slots on the upper side. It provides enough space to serve 4 people.

The newly launched Taco Stand has a stainless steel body that's anti-corrosive and has a long lasting shine. In addition, the plastic coating on each of the taco shells not only enhances its ability to grip well but also makes it scratch resistant.

Other than tacos, this efficient platform provides a tightened grip for burritos, roll ups, wraps, tortillas, and hotdogs. Furthermore, the size of taco holder is made to fit a standard size plate, which adds to Orblue's innovative design.

The Taco Holder is not only durable but also a time-saver, as it holds your tacos right in place while you work on others. In addition, the taco platform adds an attractive touch, making a simple meal look like it was prepared by a professional chef.
