

A New Political Party, Created To Fix A Failing Political System.

On Friday 10th November 2017, the British public was given the chance to change the face of politics in our country.

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM,
November 23, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/
-- WISE Reunited is now an official registered political party in both NI and GB.

Our goal is to put the people first and be a driver for change in the way politics is done. WISE will not hide from the difficult issues and will hold the current incumbents of our political system to account.

WISE will not promise something that cannot be delivered. When WISE promises something, WISE will deliver!

Wise Reunited is a fully registered lateral political party created to change the political system and reengage with the people. Westminster has for too long been detached from the people it was elected to serve. WISE Reunited is here to change that.

The message is clear and achievable; It's time for the people to win!”

Richard Pitchford (Party Leader).

The political system in the UK is failing and as a consequence so is the infrastructure, this must be corrected before the damage is irreversible.

As a party, our aim is to represent the electorate as their servants, giving them a voice while insuring their issues are addressed rather than ignored.

Through transparency and honesty as a party, whose actions can and will eradicate corruption within politics and change it for the better. By giving the people a voice and carrying their message forward the political system can be reengaged and work for the better.

All of WISE's policies have been created in skeletal form with the intention of finalising them with the input and feedback from those professionals who work in that given sector. Why would anyone create a policy on the NHS without having the input of young doctors or nursing staff that work on the front line day to day?

As a party, WISE wants to hear: What affects each and every individual on a daily basis, where the system is failing them, how the system should be changed?

The people have a voice and an opinion; it's time to share them, help to change the nature of politics within the United Kingdom.

WISE Reunited was founded in July 2017 in Cumbria, born through a need to reconnect politics with the people and close the divide. The message is clear and achievable; "It's time for the people to win". WISE Reunited's founders have varied professional and political backgrounds, as non-career politicians it is their view that a political party should exist to serve the people and carry their voice.
