SUMMARY

WiseGuyReports published new report, "Global Online Gambling Market"

Online Gambling refers to betting of money online on an event with an uncertain outcome. Online gambling is similar to gambling but the difference is that online gambling is betting on sports or casino over the internet. Online gambling is not limited to playing cards. It is a whole gamut of gambling over the internet which includes an online casino, online sports betting, or online bingo.

Online gambling is divided into four segments, casino, betting (mainly on sports), poker and other products (which include lotteries, bingo, social gaming etc.). Online casinos are the virtual version of traditional casinos which are also known as internet casinos. In online casino games, players have access to large number of games such as roulette, blackjack, pachinko, baccarat and many others. Betting is generally placed on sports and is an activity of putting money on predicting sports outcome. Poker is games of cards which are played online in the same way in which land-based pokers is played with all participants betting and determine the winner of each hand according to the combinations of player's card.
