Cannabis Packaging Market in North America 2017

The cannabis industry in North America is like other legal consumer goods industries, such as food, tobacco or alcohol. Some cannabis-infused products already look strikingly similar to existing consumer products. In addition to 'flower' which is the smokable leaf that most people usually associate with cannabis, there are many cannabis-infused products that range from edibles such as snacks and meals, to concentrates such as pills and oils, and beverages.

The cannabis packaging market in North America has undergone significant growth, and various companies have recently launched recyclable packaging solutions such as compostable cellophane bags, metal cans, and compostable pouches. Product marketing through packaging is a focus area for packaging companies, but meeting local and federal laws is critical for success.

The analysts forecast the cannabis packaging market in North America to grow at a CAGR of 10.40% during the period 2017-2021 .
