

New Homeowner Program: Buy a Home with No Money Down

PORTLAND, OR, USA, November 27, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- A new home ownership program allows qualified buyers to buy a home with absolutely no down payment. Many renters and first time home buyers hold back on looking for a home because they assume they can't break into the housing market without a sizable down payment. According to Portland realtor Derek Chow, however, this thinking is false.

"I meet people all the time who are more than qualified right now to buy the home they dream of, but who continue to slave away, paying their landlord's mortgage". Says Derek Chow of RE/MAX Equity Group. "People wrongly focus on the down payment as the stumbling block which prevents them from even considering a home purchase. By challenging this old thinking and working with area lenders", says Chow, "I've come up with a program which has helped many Portland area residents to buy the home now that they previously thought was years away."
