About Fruit Puree

A fruit puree is a product where fruits are ground, pressed, blended, or sieved to the consistency of a thick liquid or a soft creamy paste. Fruit purees usually retain all the juice and fibrous matter, which are naturally present in the fruit. While seeds of fruits are usually removed during the processing stage, seeded variants of some purees are also available. Some fruit purees are subjected to pasteurization to reduce the microbiological loading and increase the shelf life.

Technavio's analysts forecast the global fruit puree market to grow at a CAGR of 3.18% during the period 2017-2021.
