

Joan Angarano of Lifestreams Healing to be Featured on CUTV News Radio

ASHEVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, UNITED STATES, December 5, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- We all furtively search far and wide for solace and happiness. But how can we realize that true joy is found from within and that we have the power to attain it through self-awareness, personal accountability and connecting to our true self?

Joan Angarano is a top-notch evolutionary holistic life coach and founder of Lifestreams Healing, an alternative counseling organization with a focus on personal healing – spiritual, physical and emotional.

Lifestreams is defined as a powerful energetic record of everything we have ever done, thought, said or felt, in this lifetime and all others.

“Most people believe they are genetically programmed to live a certain life,” says Joan. “In actuality, we hold so many more limitless possibilities. In my relentless pursuit of truth, I realized that there are only a few absolutes. But one certainty is all human beings have more control over their destiny than they believe. We can achieve what we aspire to. It’s simply a question of intention, desire and personal accountability.”

According to Joan, it is critical for people to become aware that life is built on light, sound and electromagnetism, and we have more control over these three primary building blocks of life than we realize.

“We are all unique expressions of one cosmic mind, that magnificent spark of light and life that is in everything, including nature. What creates meaning in your life? What is your perfect self-expression?”

Joan’s inspirational journey toward helping others began as a young child. Innately a seeker and precociously inquisitive, she gravitated to the study of healing, leading her to recognize the tremendous fulfillment she acquired from serving people and the Divine. She points out that the Divine is larger and more profound than each of us, and that we can co-create with it.

Clients seek Joan out for a variety of issues from health, money, and family problems, to creating a meaningful life and finding ultimate happiness. Joan is also a self-esteem coach for children, affectionately referred to by some of her clients as “Mama.”

“I encourage and motivate people to reach deep inside and discover their light and live according to that luminescence within them. If we all genuinely accomplished that we would have a more harmonious world,” says Joan. “My hope is that everyone lives in good health, happiness and prosperity, manifested in many forms, and in perfect self-expression. I’m a mentor for whatever you want to accomplish. Peace, love and charity are the divine principles by which we all should live.”

CUTV news will feature Joan Angarano in an interview with Doug Llewelyn on December 7th at 12pm EST.
