

Fellowship Trained Mohs Surgeon, Dr. Adam A. Ingraffea

Cary Skin Center now offers Mohs Surgery with Dr. Ingraffea in Cary and Pinehurst, N.C.

CARY, NORTH CAROLINA, USA, December 7, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- As of January 2, 2018, Adam A. Ingraffea, MD, FAAD and Fellow of the American College of Mohs Surgery, begins in Cary, NC making Mohs Surgery conveniently available to patients in the Triangle area of North Carolina.

Dr. Ingraffea is a Board Certified Dermatologist at Cary Skin Center and a highly skilled Mohs Surgeon, bringing a wealth of expertise to the Cary area with over 7500 Mohs cases performed.

“Cure rates for Mohs surgery are high, making it such an advantage for patients who have skin cancer. Being able to now offer Mohs surgery to patients in N.C. is exceptionally fulfilling for me. The Cary/Triangle area/Pinehurst community is a friendly one, and the patients are very kind and open to sharing their lives with me,” said Dr. Ingraffea.

In addition to his focus on Mohs surgery, Dr. Ingraffea has special interests in cutaneous oncology, skin cancer diagnosis and treatment, and facial reconstruction. He has completed a highly selective fellowship in Mohs Micrographic Surgery.

This fellowship is approved by the American College of Mohs Surgery.

“We are extremely proud to have Dr. Ingraffea joining our team here in Cary. His expertise along with our state of the art Mohs skin cancer treatment center in Cary and Pinehurst offers every advantage for successful skin cancer treatment,” noted Robert E. Clark MD, PhD, FAAD.
