

Mission-Driven Massage Company Pledges to Donate Cordless BuffEnuff® Percussive Massagers to East Africa.

Percussion Fitness partners with charity Dreamweaver International to promote global health with Share the Healing Campaign, donating massagers to Kenya.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, USA, December 9, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Combining their passion for healing with their passion for giving, Percussion Fitness' leadership team, including doctor of chiropractic and humanitarian Dr. Warren Bruhl, Licensed Massage Therapist

Jason Auer-Sears and CrossFit Trainer Jimmy Greninger is on a mission to bring the healing power of portable power massage to under served populations in Kenya, East Africa. During a month-long effort, Percussion Fitness is partnering with Dreamweaver International to donate 1 BuffEnuff® Power Massager, their newly launched cordless percussive massager for every case (8 units) sold online to bring healing massage therapy to Kenyans.

Dr. Warren Bruhl

If you're looking to combine doing good this holiday season with your gift-giving, the BuffEnuff® Power Massager may be the perfect gift for you!

"When the BuffEnuff Massager is used to help people heal there is a powerful release of positive strong emotions of connection, safety, and comfort that bond people to one another. When one person helps another alleviate pain and suffering the one who was touched, healed by the experience and the one who provided the healing are bonded and connected. Percussion Fitness has a desire to see the world heal together," states Percussion Fitness' CEO and Dreamweaver Director, Dr. Warren Bruhl.

Now available at www.PercussionFitness.com, the BuffEnuff® Power Massager delivers professional-grade percussive therapy to tight muscles, trigger points and provides instant relief from tension and everyday aches and pains. Because it's cordless, you can quickly relax tense muscles no matter your location. Ideal for myofascial release, workout recovery, clinical use, and at-home use.
