ProfileTree is your business's gateway to digital marketing success. Eight years after its launch, the online focused agency ProfileTree.com offers exciting new branding services for small and medium sized businesses, the self-employed and basically anyone offering a service. Unlike most other agencies, ProfileTree run its own websites and various social channels online with the help of its experienced team.

We live and breathe the daily challenge of finding customers digitally. This cost-effective branding platform has proven its efficiency in delivering customers and building hugely successful brands online. We help to build a strong presence online for businesses—no matter what their size is — in a challenging digital world.

The options for “being” online are greater than ever. However, entrepreneurs face pressing questions upon starting their businesses: Where do I start? What do I focus on? Do I need a website? Do I need to be on social media? Do I need a blog? Do I need SEO? Do I need an online strategy? This is where ProfileTree comes in. We can help devise an effective online marketing strategy specifically designed for any brand.

ProfileTree constantly offers new services for businesses and the self-employed. It provides a wide range of services, including content marketing, web design and online marketing strategy. Based in Belfast, the company helps businesses globally with creating long-term online strategies ensuring a digital brand or platform that uniquely positions these businesses and engages with the needed target audience no matter where they are. Along this process, ProfileTree helps them make clear sense of analysing their online marketing needs, formulating their goals, developing an integrated strategy and customer identifying tools, building digital public relations and video marketing.

Not only do ProfileTree services help you develop a marketing plan, it can also fully implement a signed off marketing strategy after reviewing your business in detail and helping you with creating a solid plan that focuses on what you need to do and maximises impact for your budget. Since ProfileTree believes in the significance of online marketing for businesses, it provides comprehensive web solutions customised to your their specific requirements. And, thus, it will provide planning and design, project management, web development and implementation and aids to choose the right content management systems.

We believes that web development relies on 3 main pillars:

1. Regular Communication: which will keep you up to date on how the brand building is going.
2. Agile: which will deliver work in sprints allowing for quick completion of deliverables.
3. Clear Focus: which will ensure that the goal of development is the primary concern at all times.

Aware of the importance of meeting the needs of new interactive media on the Web and that the brand's positioning must be continuously communicated to the target audience, ProfileTree has a team of premium editors who will craft the words you need. The company's content services lands your business in the top list ahead of your competitors, all in terms of a devised effective content marketing plan with a real strategy to ensure your success online, whether marketing B2B (business-to-business) or B2C (business-to-customer).

And since social media is the primary way to communicate with potential customers, and that having a consistent message shared with audiences is critical to the positioning of the brand, ProfileTree's social media services make sure your message cuts right through the noise and reaches your exact target audience with rich content that is hard to ignore. These social media services run on all kinds of social networks, ranging from Facebook, Twitter, Pinterest to Instagram, Youtube, and many more!.
