Discrete Semiconductors Market 2017

A semiconductor device that is not bifurcated into different functional components and performs an elementary electronic function is known as a discrete semiconductor. Until 2014, the market generated the majority of its revenue from APAC owing to the growing number of players and increased demand for discrete semiconductors within this region. Countries such as Japan, China, Taiwan, and South Korea were the key contributors in APAC. APAC was followed by EMEA and the Americas.

The analysts forecast the global discrete semiconductors market to grow at a CAGR of 4.61% in terms of revenue over the period 2015-2019.
