

On A Mission to Take TR to The Next Level

Paving the Way for the Next Generation of Artists

LINDENWOLD, NEW JERSEY, UNITED STATES, December 14, 2017

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Taking the reins Joseph C. Bennett is on a mission to take TalentRaters (TR) to the next level. Dreams can come true with hard work and dedication but for Joe, his mission is above and beyond aiding in the pursuit to bring a global community of artists, entertainers, models and actors together for exposure in receiving online support and recognition within TR MAGAZINE. The business is growing rapidly and with a secure business model and concept we need investors to help unite a community of artists and entertainers. The underlying motive and key to success is love and passion. A fuel that motivates us in fulfilling our purpose and soul mission.

Dare to be Greater with TalentRaters

As we know music is the drug we crave that encapsulating soul food which connects us to an emotionally happier place. A sacred space for our hearts to heal, for our minds to clear. It is the therapeutic medicine to reduce stress, depression, social and emotional barriers.

“

It's not about Me it's about helping the ones like Me, the ones who wanted to give up because they don't know how or who to go to, or receive a negativity bout following an unpromising career.”

Joseph C. Bennett

This is the motivation for TalentRaters to take the talent industry to the next level. We want to move people, we want to create a family, a global phenomenon. We are in the twentieth century which means without technology we are without a future. So, with this fast-paced world we can take the entertainment industry above and beyond because everybody matters. We can create a movement, we can help aid a society that because of technology we are becoming more subdued living in a world behind virtual walls instead of human interaction. This is why we must plant the seed of growth within the TR family. We have a huge project a big vision, and a complete restructure within the TR plan.

What would a world be like without entertainment, arts and music? A world a population of heartless compositions?

Love is the only eternal flame which moves us along our path because we are always following our heart over logic and without the melodic harmony that stabilizes our emotional state could lead us to endeavor a very dark path.

How many people would say they don't listen to music? A rare few maybe, but needless to say there would be more unmotivated individuals, road rage and broken hearts without the melodic harmony which heals our soul and keeps us emotionally sane whilst we endeavor throughout our Journey of life.

TR has a concept to reach out, connect, explore and promote all talent because without talent and entertainment there is no imagination and without imagination we cannot progress forward.

Music is undeniably the fuse between our body mind and soul and it is credential that we appreciate the confidence and talent behind gifted artists. So, by listening to our favorite artists, what makes them so special to another musician that hasn't had the opportunity in stepping into the spotlight? Is it the millions of dollars contracts, endorsements and advertising that we instantly connect to the latest track being played on the radio? Is it the latest fashion trends worn by our most popular artists and celebrities all over the latest gossip magazines which melts our hearts and puts a little fire back in our confidence? What is it that makes us, connect ourselves to artists within the entertainment industry?

Teamwork Makes the Dreamwork!

Carpe Diem! "Seize the Day"

As we are driven by emotion, of heartache pain happiness and love. We need to feel similarity like a piece of heaven is connecting with our soul, an essence of who we are and who we were born to become. Depending on our mood cycle we listen to songs, a particular voice, the lyrics a story to mirror our mood and within that we can release tension and connect on an emotional level.

So where do we find the hidden gems without Sony or Warner taking them under construction, for hard work, long hours, performances and tours. Well we don't unless a little public exposition is announced.

TalentRaters is THE place that honors and respects, artistic talented individuals, with a commitment and mission towards giving each talent as much exposure and opportunity within the industry. Joseph Bennett director and founder of TR has endured a hard struggle a long wind of setbacks, dead ends, and missed opportunities throughout his life. Although what was always missed, burning deep inside this beautiful soul was a vision to build an empire. An empire in the pursuit to bring America's roots back after the devastating catastrophic attacks with 911. Joe states that after the catastrophe Americans are more cautious, afraid and reclusive. Joe is reaching out with a vision in Joining hands with everybody nationally and globally. Commuting a broad network of talented artists. The vision is to bring together a community, a movement to shift a coldness and bring a warmth to the population by showcasing live community events in the aid to raise money for charitable causes with partial proceeds from TR MAGAZINE. The TR family delivers a helping hand, sense of warmth, compassion, recognition, exposure and endless possibilities and with a motivated team who are very passionate about helping a society with a goal to make dreams come true.
