Modern Online Journal -The Kasaan Times- offers you a completely new way of advertising. In German and English.”

Marinella Charlotte van ten Haarlen

The attention is on the news, which must be described vividly and truly. The story behind the story is important.

This is our primary approach, to which we live up to.

Our articles are self-researched and correspond to the spirit of time and the democratic practices of the press. We take very little from agencies- we form an own picture of the world from our perception.

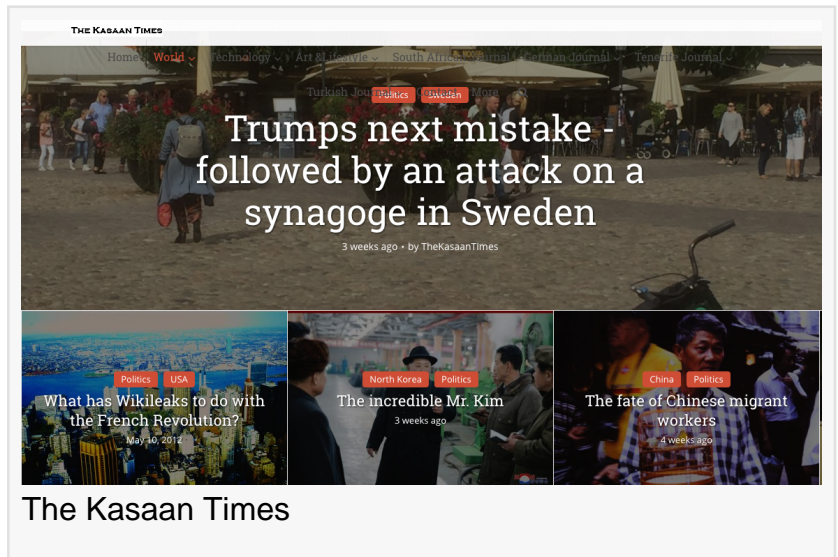

We work on current topics, but also devote ourselves to historical events. We have linked shops and publications with the journals.

We participate in the moment that is important for immediate relevance, researching and filming for our journal to uphold the quality of the publication.

Gladly, also for you and your enterprise. In German and in English. In a timely manner, it is also possible to accompany the articles in Spanish and French.

Contact us, write or email us.

Please, also contact us if we should write about your company, about your product, an article or a reportage, film or podcast. We are happy to help you with the development of social media accounts and ad-scripts.

You are welcome to inquire, if you want to enclose your shop in our journals.

We hope for a long-term and mutually beneficial partnership.
