Report Sellers has added a new market research report "Polymer Modified Cementitious Coatings - Global Market Outlook \(2017-2023\)" to its offerings.

Global Polymer Modified Cementitious Coatings Market Research Report

According to Report, the Global Polymer Modified Cementitious Coatings market is expected to grow from $1.17 billion in 2016 to reach $2.03 billion by 2023 with a CAGR of 8.2%. Growing infrastructural activities in emerging economies, increasing investments in research and development, and encouraging government regulations are some of the major factors fostering the market growth. In addition, rising awareness about adopting green technologies is another factor boosting the market growth during the forecast period. On the other hand, volatility in raw material prices and less shelf life are some of the restraints limiting the market growth.

By polymer type, acrylic polymer segment is expected to command the market during the forecast period on account of the high adoption in architectural application, and waterproofing applications. Based on application, residential buildings segment leads the market globally with the biggest market share and is expected to grow with considerable growth rate during the forecast period. The growth of this segment is attributed to increasing construction activities in emerging countries.

North America and Europe are projected to be the leading markets during the forecast period. Asia Pacific is expected to witness high growth rate during the forecast period. The growth is attributed to raising construction industry and government investments in public infrastructure in emerging countries such as India and China. Strong growth rate of chemical industry in China is also favoring the Asia Pacific region growth.

Some of the key players in global polymer modified cementitious coatings market include BASF SE, Akzo Nobel N.V., Arkema S.A., Berger Paints India Limited, Celanese Corporation, Evercrete Corporation, Flexcrete Technologies Limited, Fosroc International Limited, H.B.
