

Empyrion Wealth Management's Kimberly Foss to Discuss Smart Choices in Robo Investing

What's your relationship with money? Are you overwhelmed by options avail to invest and build wealth? Gain knowledge to make better choices about finances.

ROSEVILLE, CA, USA, January 9, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Roseville, CA (January 9, 2017) Robo investing options are popping up at every turn, but more options don't necessarily mean better choices. In fact, the influx of choices can leave investors feeling overwhelmed and underserved.

During the week of January 29th, Kimberly Foss, CFP, CPWA will be speaking at the Your Whole Brain on Biz Summit to help uncover the differences between robo investing options and how a hybrid human approach addresses both the right and left-brain reasoning needs of investors.

"This Summit serves as the perfect forum to discuss the benefits of marrying right and left brain thinking when it comes to investing. The relationship and interplay between the hemispheres is all-important. The 'right' provides the vision and the 'left' creates the systems to manifest that vision. This gives you solid ground for long-term sustainable success," says Kimberly Foss.

Kimberly and nine other experts will be discussing topics to help individuals plan for success in 2018, including sessions on vision, money, confidence and productivity. Webinars are recorded and available for playback only for registered attendees. All registrants will be eligible for additional resources provided by each speaker, but the best gifts are only available to LIVE participants.
