NEW REPORT SHOWS KITCHEN REMODELING YIELDS STRONG ROI
Remodeling Magazine Ranks Kitchen Remodeling as Top Priority for Homeowners

Livonia, MI: A new report from Remodeling Magazine shows that kitchen remodeling projects yield some of the highest ROI rates for homeowners. The Cost vs. Value report ranked home remodeling projects based on their ROI potential for homeowners in 2018. Minor kitchen remodeling projects came in at number five, with an average job cost of $21,198 and an average resale value of $17,193 for an 81.1% return on investment. The report is based on data collected from homeowners and real estate transactions conducted across the country. The results of the report demonstrate the value of kitchen remodeling as it pertains to homeowners and potential buyers. Homeowners should strongly consider updating their kitchen before listing their home on the market.

As a leader in kitchen and bathroom home remodeling, Kurtis Kitchen & Bathroom wants its customers to understand the financial implications when making improvements to their home. Knowing which home improvement projects will lead to the biggest ROI can help homeowners reap the most value out of their property. One of the company's recent customers, had this to say on Google Reviews, "We had a great experience with Kurtis Kitchen. They were very professional, and accommodating to all our requests and changes." As part of their commitment to their customers in the Detroit metro area, Kurtis Kitchen & Bath is dedicated to staying on top of the latest trends in the home improvement industry.

Remodeling Magazine is a trusted resource for homeowners and home improvement professionals across the country. Their annual Cost vs. Value report has become a vital reference for those looking to add value to their property by ranking different types of home improvement projects based on their ROI potential. This year's report compares the average cost for 21 popular remodeling projects in 149 markets with the value those projects retain at resale in 100 U.S. markets. The report also ranks remodeling projects based on their ROI potential within different geographic locations.

- For the East North Central Region, including Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Ohio, minor kitchen remodeling projects earned a 73.4% ROI.
- This marks a 1.4% increase in the ROI potential for minor kitchen remodeling projects, compared to the 2017 report.
