The background of the main content area features a smiling woman in a light blue shirt looking at a laptop.

Greg J., from Toronto, recently said, "We tried using web hosting out of China thinking it could save us some money. The response time was slow and this was certainly costing us revenue, among many other issues. We decided on moving to Web Hosting in Canada and they helped us make the entire experience smooth and painless. I can't say enough good things about this Canadian web hosting company. Five stars."
