

ITsavvy Awarded CMAS Contract for Public Sector IT Products

ITsavvy just announced that it was awarded a CMAS contract for information technology products and services. This is the company's first CMAS contract.

ADDISON, ILLINOIS, U.S., January 19, 2018

/EINPresswire.com/ -- ITsavvy, one of the fastest growing private sector and public sector technology providers in the U.S., just announced that it was awarded a CMAS \(California Multiple Award Schedules\) contract for information technology products and services. This is the company's first CMAS contract.

ITsavvy President and CEO Mike Theriault said, "We are thrilled to extend ITsavvy's industry-leading products and services to California agencies and educational institutions. With this contract, our public sector reach continues to grow. Our goal is to become the top technology solution provider for government procurement managers and CMAS allows us to attain this goal."

CMAS is a procurement tool, established in 1994, that is used by California state and local government agencies, California State University (CSU) systems, University of California (UC) systems, community colleges and K-12 school districts. ITsavvy's CMAS contract, number 3-17-70-3483A, runs through Nov. 29, 2019.

CMAS simplifies the purchasing process and makes it easier for California's state and local government agencies to benefit from ITsavvy's strong vendor partnerships and state-of-the-art logistics.

ITsavvy's Senior Director of Sales, Public Sector Brian Fields said, "Buyers in California are already experiencing the value of ITsavvy as a procurement partner. With 11 California distribution centers and a centrally located sales office, ITsavvy is providing dedicated sales support and delivering more in-stock products with same-day ground shipping. This leads to extremely efficient logistics."
