

The DevOps Agile Skills Association (DASA) Appoints New DASA Global Ambassadors

January 25, 2018 - The DevOps Agile Skills Association (DASA) announces New Ambassadors to their DASA Ambassador Program.

RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA, UNITED STATES, January 25, 2018

/EINPresswire.com/ -- The DevOps Agile Skills Association ("DASA"), an open, global community for DevOps and Agile Skills development, is proud to announce three new DASA Ambassadors. "Our DASA Ambassador Program was designed to increase awareness for DASA both locally and globally" says Deborah Burton, DASA Managing Director.

"It is with great pleasure that I announce the following new DASA Ambassadors:

Stephan Brendel, Stephan is the EMEA Regional Manager for APMG - His ITSM background allowed for him to dive quickly into DevOps practices. He is an avid promoter of DASA and evangelizes the DASA Competence Model around the Globe. His tireless work and contributions have helped drive adoption of DASA into new geographies.

"Our DASA Ambassador Program was designed to increase awareness for DASA both locally and globally".

Says Deborah Burton, DASA Managing Director

and more.

Paul Wilkinson, Paul is the Co-Founder of GamingWorks, A Simulation Training Company. GamingWorks provides a rich portfolio of business simulations including the hugely popular Phoenix Project DevOps Simulation mapped to the DASA DevOps Competence Model. Paul has both a broad and rich IT background having spent more than 25 years in the IT Industry. He is a Thought Leader and a very active voice in the IT Best Practice Community, says Burton.

DASA Ambassadors are a passionate and dedicated group of individuals that plan and execute specific programs that enable and empower local and regional community-driven activities. Their contributions take many forms which include hosting online and onsite events, driving engagement via social channels, contributing thought leadership in the shape of articles, white papers, and blogs. They dedicate their professional and personal time to give a local voice to DASA as we continue to expand our members-driven community by actively contributing and advocating skills and knowledge development based on DASA's Competence model and certification scheme.
