

Move On From Your Life Transition in a Unique Stylish Way with “The Beverly Hills Eulogy”

The Beverly Hills Eulogy arranges private elegant Eulogy Parties in clients' homes to celebrate life transitions in a fun but healing way.

BEVERLY HILLS, CA, U.S.A., January 30, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- For those experiencing a transition in life, The Beverly Hills Eulogy offers a unique solution to help let go of the past. Clients can celebrate in the privacy of their own home with a stylish, boutique-style Eulogy Party, designed to help bring about closure in a healing, fun and often humorous way.

Founded by the only Transformational Eulogy Specialist in the world and author, Annette Marie Westwood, The Beverly Hills Eulogy is the only service of its kind in existence. Her luxury service also offers professional Life, Divorce or Dating Coaching, along with top-of-the-line Fitness Training, Makeovers, and Stylists.

“The Eulogy Party is intended to help mourn and release the ending of something, and then celebrate what a strong fabulous Flower you are for surviving,” says Westwood. “But far from being a solemn affair, we strive to make it unique, luxurious, and a lot of fun!”

A Eulogy, also known as Eulogium, is a ritual that has been used throughout history; most often for closure from the loss of a person through death.”

The business is currently much in demand, not surprisingly since Westwood and her team are willing to travel anywhere in the U.S. to provide their services. Eulogy Parties for deceased pets are a popular choice right now, especially in Beverly Hills; however the pet owner must be ready to show they are emotionally ready to move on by having a new pet to introduce at the Eulogy.

“A Eulogy, also known as Eulogium, is a ritual that has been used throughout history; most often for closure from the loss of a person through death,” Westwood explains. “A Eulogy is a speech in high praise of person; we keep that tradition at The Beverly Hills Eulogy. Guests dress in mourning black and bring a gift. And the clients can perform the Eulogy through speech, dance, song, or whatever their talent is. Every Eulogy Party is completely unique, depending on the client's wishes.”

Westwood has had numerous offers from major production companies to create a reality TV show about her business, which she says might be something to consider in the future. She is also the author of two books relevant to her business: Goodbye to You, and Don't Go In That Room! Both books are on the topic of dating and divorce.

"I compare dating to horror films in my book "Don't Go In That Room!" since so many people are having such an awful time dating and everyone is looking for the (BBD) Bigger Better Deal," she jokes.

In her book, "Goodbye to You: A Girlfriend's Guide to Wake You Up Before You Go Go Through Divorce," she uses 80s music analogies to get the reader through divorce with humor, using references to songs that have captured every possible aspect of love.

"From the sad songs that will make you cry, to the ones that will have you dancin' in the streets, music is some of the best therapy there is."

Westwood is currently writing her third book about Pet Loss for her clients that have experienced the death of a pet:

"Pet Loss can be more painful than other life transitions because pets love us unconditionally," she explains. "Unlike most of our friends and family, they are always there for us when we need them."

About the company:

The Beverly Hills Eulogy organizes private luxury Eulogy Parties in the comfort of clients' own homes for divorce, breakups, pet loss or other important life transitions. The company offers its services anywhere across the U.S., but only takes on a limited number of exclusive clients in order to ensure their service is of the highest possible standard.
