- Alabama
- Arkansas

These side-by-side comparisons help companies that are determined to bring their manufacturing back to America or to expand their operations here.”

Rosemary Coates, Executive Director

- California
- Colorado
- Iowa
- Kansas
- Maryland
- Minnesota
- Mississippi
- Missouri
- Nebraska
- Nevada
- New Mexico
- North Carolina

- North Dakota
- South Carolina
- Vermont
- Virginia
- Washington
- Wisconsin

These profiles provide information useful to companies determining where the most suitable locations are for manufacturing. Tax incentives, grants, loans and other important state economic metrics are included to aid reshoring companies in these difficult decisions. The profiles are available for download here: <https://reshoringinstitute.org/reshoring-knowledge-library/state-profiles>

“We very carefully designed the profiles to be compared side-by-side,” said Rosemary Coates, Executive Director of the Reshoring Institute. “We know of no other side-by-side comparisons like this to aid companies determined to bring manufacturing back to America or to expand their operations here. We are honored to host this important information for the States,” she said.

“We are delighted that we have now published twenty profiles. Several more are in-process,” said Alex Levy, Director at the Reshoring Institute. “We know this is a major undertaking for the State Economic Development Organizations, and we really appreciate their efforts in assisting companies that are reshoring by providing this very useful information.”
