Jeff Schaffer recently helped someone reach a settlement for a personal injury in mediation. The client was a sanitation worker who fell on a driveway located at an apartment complex. The driveway was covered in grease and oil stains, resulting from motor vehicles driving in and out of the apartment complex. When wet, these stains become very slippery. The client suffered a torn rotator cuff injury to his shoulder which required surgery.

Slip and fall injuries are some of the most common instances of injuries, especially those who work in a service-related industry.

The client then reached out to the attorneys at Saffren & Weinberg to help with the case. Jeffrey Schaffer, Attorney, was more than happy to take on the case and file a lawsuit to help get the client the justice that he deserved. The case was settled in mediation and the client was awarded $380,000.00.
