Jenkintown's Jeffrey Schaffer of Saffren & Weinberg handles personal injury, medical malpractice, property damage, social security disability, wrongful death, and product liability cases.

“

One-third of auto accidents are the result of negligent speeding. Auto accidents are occurring more frequently because more and more drivers find themselves speeding on the road.”

Ken Saffren, Partner

Jeff Schaffer recently helped a client reach a settlement for an injury that she experienced during an auto accident. The client was driving a motor vehicle through an intersection. The client was struck by someone who ran a red light in that intersection. The client suffered multiple injuries including a right shoulder dislocation, a humeral head fracture, and carpal tunnel syndrome requiring surgery.

The Insurance Institute for Highway Safety (IIHS) says that approximately one-third of auto accidents are the result of negligent speeding. Auto accidents are also occurring more frequently now because more and more drivers find themselves disobeying traffic laws and speeding on the road. Attorney Jeff Schaffer is no stranger to this situation and was able to use his experience in these types of cases to help obtain a settlement.

After the accident, the client reached out to the team at Saffren & Weinberg to receive legal help with her case. Attorney Jeff Schaffer filed a lawsuit to help the injured client receive the justice that she deserved. Schaffer was able to settle the case directly with the insurance company and the client was awarded a settlement of $945,000.
