

Bitcoin B2G Details ICO Recruiting Program

Depositors who bring in fellow depositors can earn a commission on their recruits' revenues, figured as a percentage of earnings.

HONG KONG, CHINA, February 8, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Bitcoin B2G, www.bitcoin.com, has announced the details of its recruiting program, designed to reward early depositors who bring new participants into B2G's Initial Coin Offering (ICO). This new ICO offers Bitcoin B2G, a second-generation cryptocurrency, at a pre-hard cap discount. And depositors who bring in fellow depositors can earn a commission on their recruits' revenues, figured as a percentage of earnings.

Here's how it works. To Promote Bitcoin B2G, a depositor who chooses to participate in one of our accredited Mining Programs, will earn commissions off their recruits' earnings. Bitcoin B2G is offering a 4-level commission structure, available to whoever joins the program and/or purchases Bitcoin B2G during the ICO period. Commissions are paid in four tiers:

- Level 1 : 15% (personally-recruited affiliates)
- Level 2 : 10% (those personally-recruited affiliates' recruits)
- Level 3 : 5% (recruits' recruits' recruits)
- Level 4 : 2.5% (you get the idea)

Growth Prospects and Strategies

For the ICO launch , we have focused on developing a self-sufficient coin, backed by mining on purpose-based mining rigs built and managed by Dragon Mining. This ecosystem has now launched, and can support as many transactions as the original bitcoin currently processes. We will be focused on raising a minimal soft cap of $75M. Fund-raising has already begun. The $12,000,000 USD already raised (in the first ten days) indicates an excellent prospect for attaining our hard cap of $250,000,000 by our late-March official ICO launch date.

"Bitcoin looks like the next big thing." --Johnny Chen, CEO of Dragon Mining
