

Blockchain technology for a better society, a fairer system.

CHICAGO, USA, February 11, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Bitcoin has set off a global wave of crypto-currencies. Since bitcoin is not issued by any national institution, and it is decentralized and freely traded, even though bitcoin is still limited as a means of payment, it has been heavily invested as the prices soar higher and higher. Investors is turning from gold-hedging to coin-holding.

Mr. Pennington Wright, CEO of Nightshade Entertainment, said: "The new era of blockchain has come and the opportunity to profit through the blockchain is finally everywhere now."

Mr. Pennington Wright mentioned that in the era of blockchain we will have a perfect system of absolute fairness and no government of our country can tamper with everything at will. Without any "human" operation, there is a definite honesty, definitely more than any one of the notary office information. He predicts that in the next decade, blockchain technology will create a completely new financial system, and virtual currency will also become the key currency in financial markets.

In the future, the increasing flow of digital currency will inevitably cause a lot of people to buy up, and when the supply is unchanged and the demand increases, it will naturally bring considerable investment benefits. Coupled with the digital assets with encryption security, legal and avoid inflation mechanisms, is quite a potential investment goals.

In addition, the scarcity of crypto-currency is taking after gold, so it has value-added hedging characteristics. In online trading, it does not have any national boundaries, any government monitoring, do not have to worry about the possibility of counterfeit currency, which also created a virtual currency in the market investment value.

Quoting Microsoft founder Bill Gates, he said: "The future of wealth must belong to the digital currency, not the dollar, nor the gold, the future of virtual currency is unlimited, will bring a new whirlwind in the global financial community."
