Emerging from a tumultuous 2017, the insurance industry's collective eyes are on Proper Insurance and their comprehensive vacation rental program. A new paradigm for niche insurance, Proper continues to set the bar with the most comprehensive coverage available in the US for short term vacation rentals. The recipe for success is simple: create an all-inclusive policy custom-penned for the unique risks of a vacation rental business, back it by Lloyd's of London -the world's oldest and most respected marketplace, and provide the best customer service in the industry. Proper's customers agree- Michael and Barbara from New York speak to their experience;

A new paradigm for niche insurance, Proper continues to set the bar with the most comprehensive coverage available in the US for short term vacation rentals.”

“I had a great experience working with Proper Insurance as we sought a policy for our primary residence that would also cover short-term rental property owners. They answered all my questions and presented a competitive quote within a few days. Their staff is extremely friendly and responsive even if you file a claim. The agent and the adjuster contacted us right away after we had some storm damage. They've been easy to work with; my claim was resolved fair and quickly”

The level of service and uniquely personal approach taken by Proper Insurance has served the company well through the natural disasters and catastrophic events that insurance companies historically struggle with. Buoyed by excellent underwriting and fair adjusting, Proper Insurance has continued to garner stellar reviews by those affected by Hurricanes Irma and Harvey, winter storms over the East Coast, and the fires in California and the Western US.

Kim from Santa Barbara says:

“I'm still in shock considering the trauma endured by my family, the response by Proper Insurance and teams they hired that kept our home safe. This insurance company is not just insurance company, they have now become part of our family. They watched over us, they protected us, and they asked how we were doing. When I saw the two Proper-hired firefighters in our garden collecting their hoses, all I could do was burst into tears. Thank you Thank you Thank you for saving our home!”

With the growing popularity of short term renting in the US, Proper Insurance has seen the need to develop a niche program designed to bring total piece of mind to the owner and property manager. For over 4 years, the team of experts at Proper Insurance has produced quality policies equipped with $1,000,000/$2,000,000 of commercial liability, written on special cause of loss forms, with liability coverage extended to amenities such as docks, swimming pools, hot tubs, bicycles, and much more.

Proper Insurance remains the number one choice for short term rental policies in 2018 with the proven formula that brought the company success in years prior, and with 50 years in specialty insurance, Proper's policy is the highest quality insurance available today for vacation rental property owners. Available in all 50 states. Call or email to get connected with an Account Executive, or get a quote online and get yourself properly insured!
