

US Cryotherapy Austin, TX boasts the largest chamber in Texas; the safest non nitrogen systems with superior results.

Cryotherapy doesn't have to be done in private, US Cryotherapy Austin introduces an open space to Cryo with friends seeking better health and faster recoveries.

AUSTIN, TX, US, February 15, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- (Austin, TX) – US Cryotherapy Franchise Owners Chase McKinzie, with his business partner and mother, Laura McKinzie, opened their doors at 3027 N Lamar Suite 202 Austin TX, 78705 in mid-November 2017. The rapidly growing center will offer a monthly Cryoga (Cryotherapy & Yoga) event to registrants for $30 all-inclusive on Saturday, February 17 at 10:30am with JJ Pepper instructing. The center is larger enough to process groups, team events, and fundraiser programs without appointments as the location has the capacity to treat 400 customers per day at the best value-based pricing in the nation for the wellness center services.

C4 Recovery chamber, non-liquid nitrogen, 4-person system

Chase is so completely educated on the mechanism of action and benefits of Cryotherapy, it resonates with his satisfied customer base.”

The cold air therapy offers a unique, convenient, and energizing new concept which promotes faster recovery and better health. Whole Body Cryotherapy (WBC) offered by US Cryotherapy is exposure to subzero temperatures in a walk-in chamber environment using refrigerated cold air with no use of hazardous liquid nitrogen. The entire body is exposed (including chest, neck, and head during the short duration session which uniformly cools the entire body). The “cold shock” stimulates skin sensors, activating a Central Nervous System (CNS) response, which causes the release of endorphins, the body's natural pain inhibitors and mood elevators, accelerating recovery while elevating mood and energy. Elite athletes, professional sports teams, and the public have adopted Whole Body Cryotherapy treatments as a holistic new way to treat the body via stimulating self-repair while energizing the body and mind. US Cryotherapy has treated close to 1-million customers across the nation since founding the Cryotherapy business in early 2011, with now 20 locations and growing. The Austin center will also offer localized cold air spot treatments, facial rejuvenation, vibration plate technology, and NormaTec compression, to provide some of the most advanced and complete recovery concepts within a holistic wellness center in Texas.

"When my mom and I decided to bring US Cryotherapy to the vibrant city of Austin, our mission was to become not only the premier cryotherapy provider in Texas, but also to cultivate a community centered around health, wellness and recovery. Our goal with monthly Cryoga Workshops is to foster relationships, debut local Austin business sponsors & yoga instructors, as well as introduce Austinite's to this wonderful safe, effective, and nitrogen-free recovery concept which is how Cryotherapy was designed to be delivered, True Whole Body with no hazardous gases," stated Chase McKinzie. Chase is a University of Texas graduate (2014) and a role model to young entrepreneurs interested in building their own futures through business ownership.

"Chase and his family are amazing franchise owners," stated Kevin Kramer, US Cryotherapy co-founder and CEO. "Chase is so completely educated on the mechanism of action and benefits of Cryotherapy, it resonates with his satisfied customer base. We couldn't be more excited for the McKinzie's and the Austin center as the education and awareness is already spreading regarding our superior model, value, safety, and complete services offered at our locations. Much like every other location we've opened, Cryotherapy loyalists gravitate to US Cryotherapy and newbies choose US Cryotherapy for the brand reputation, value and safety. I highly encourage readers in the Austin area to participate in the Cryoga event or just stop by for an overview to feel and see the difference from the competition." concluded Kramer

Join the US Cryotherapy Family and JJ Pepper for a fulfilling, enlightening, and grounding yoga class with natural lighting and sponsored goodies to enjoy. Following yoga, we Cryo in our spacious 4-person capacity whole body cryotherapy chamber. You can even practice your vinyasa flow with ample room to move!! #Namaste #KeepAustinChill
