EINPresswire.com/ -- For the third year in a row, leading managed services provider ITsavvy has been officially recognized as a best managed service provider by CRN. The MSP Elite 150 recognizes large MSPs with a strong mix of on-premises and off-premises services. It reflects the top MSPs from CRN's MSP 500 list, which spotlights North American solution providers with cutting-edge approaches to delivering managed services.

ITsavvy's ever-expanding managed services portfolio lets clients navigate the dynamic and complex IT landscape, improve individual and enterprise performance, and maximize technology ROI.

ITsavvy President and CEO Mike Theriault said, "We recognized, before many of our competitors, that offering managed services would be critical to the long-term growth of our clients and this is proving correct. As such, we have experience and expertise and a depth of resources that other MSPs cannot offer. We are very grateful to CRN for their continued recognition of the value we bring to clients." MSPs play a key role in helping companies cost-effectively leverage new technologies without losing focus on their core business. CRN's MSP Elite 150 list shines a light on the most forward-thinking and innovative of these key organizations.

The Channel Company CEO Bob Skelley said, "Managed service providers have become integral to the success of businesses everywhere, both large and small. Capable MSPs enable companies to take their cloud computing to the next level, streamline spending, effectively allocate limited resources and navigate the vast field of available technologies. The companies on CRN's 2018 MSP 500 list stand out for their innovative services, excellence in adapting to customers' changing needs and demonstrated ability to help businesses get the most out of their IT investments."

We have experience and expertise and a depth of resources that other MSPs cannot offer.”
