Wix.com is a publicly traded company under the symbol WIX (NASDAQ) and is a leading cloud-based development platform with millions of users worldwide. Sean has been the #1 Wix Pro designer for years now under the old Wix Arena and is now inviting car dealers around the world to view his work in the new Wix arena or on Turbo Marketing Solution's Website where they can see all the lead generating tools offered to North American car dealerships to generate leads from existing and conquest vehicle shoppers.

Lucie Gauvreau, the CEO of Turbo Marketing Solutions says: "We are proud to have one of our own here at Turbo Marketing dominating the numbers of such a powerful platform around the world, and knowing Sean, this is just the beginning. Even in the new Wix Arena, he is still the most prolific with 422 projects associated with his profile."

With the average research timeline for a new car purchase that can span over months and trigger countless intent-driven micro-moments where consumers turn to their devices to answer a question or to address a need, it's no surprise that car dealers and manufacturers are turning to savvy digital auto marketers like Turbo Marketing and Sean Cassy to help shape car buyer's decisions.

Sean Cassy says: "I've been in love with Wix since their very beginning. It allows us to create the most engaging visitor experience for our car dealers and generate leads for them in a way that puts a smile on vehicle shoppers faces. Plus now, with the new Wix Code features, we will be able to create a dynamic individualized experience for every prospect.”

An automotive sales-funnel built on Wix by Sean can be deployed within hours for any pre-owned and franchise dealerships anywhere in North America.
