

Zen and a Self-Sufficient Crypto-ecosystem

Bitcoiin B2G was designed to revive the original vision of cryptocurrency – anonymous, global, secure, transparent, reliable, secure.

HONG KONG, CHINA, February 23, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Bitcoiin B2G, www.bitcoiin.com, has announced actor, martial artist and Zen Master Steven Seagal as its global brand spokesman. But what about Seagal's Zen practice motivates an interest in an independent cryptocurrency?

"The key is self-sufficiency," says Seagal. "And humanity. We are here to understand the world as it is. My Zen practice seeks to bring people to enlightenment. That includes clearing our minds of distractions, especially stress and anxiety, and centering our selves in the world as it is."

People have asked why these ideas have led Seagal to participation in the world of cryptocurrencies, and in particular Bitcoiin B2G. We can only begin to grasp the depth of Seagal's spiritual ideas, but it seems fair to say that freeing people from the stranglehold of centralized institutions like banks and national governments may be part of the answer.

"The key is self-sufficiency," says Seagal.

The Zen practitioner seeks to free the mind from the “life-world.” For most people, this means seeking to raise one's sights from the everyday realities of debt, work, stress and anxiety. Those stressors, based on an either/or paradigm of thinking, must be overcome. The Zen practitioner seeks a stillness of mind, a life of tending toward the concrete thing-events. The Zen practitioner seeks freedom, expressive of the original human nature.

In these ideas we can perhaps see what Seagal sees in cryptocurrency. A stillness, away from the nattering of business, the chains of credit, the bonds of national borders.

And why Bitcoiin B2G, in particular? Bitcoiin B2G offers secure technology, with blockchain ledger confirmation implemented through the Ethereum
