

Level Office purchases Downtown West building

MINNEAPOLIS, MN, US, March 8, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Coworking company Level Office is expanding into Minneapolis with the purchase of the former Art Institutes International Minnesota building at 15 S 9th St. The Chicago-based company acquired the four-story LaSalle Building on March 2 and plans to renovate it to provide modern and affordable workspace. Leasing is already underway for private offices, office suites, and retail leasing opportunities which will be available in early April.

“Minneapolis’ small business growth is impressive, and we are excited to offer local business owners professional, flexible, and budget-friendly workspace in a fantastic location,” said Bill Bennett, Founder of Level Office.

Level Office coworking and private office users get direct fiber internet, all utilities, access to communal lounge areas with amenities such as an espresso bar, local beer on tap, and community events included in rent. With pricing of $99 a month for 24/7 coworking memberships and private offices starting at $440 a month, Level Office seeks to provide small businesses and entrepreneurs with high-caliber amenities at a budget price.

Built in 1916, the 78,600-square-foot building features skyway connectivity, a red-brick exterior, and an adjacent parking lot. By purchasing the buildings where it operates, Level Office is able to invest in infrastructure improvements including fiber internet, all while keeping rents lower than competitors.

“We are drawn by Minneapolis’ supportive environment for small businesses,” said Bennett, who grew up in Minneapolis. “The city’s strong economic growth and diverse mix of entrepreneurs makes it an ideal place for a Level Office location.”
