Tricia Andreassen a Multi-Time Best Selling Author has launched a Co-Author book project titled Reigniting Hope; Spark the fire to grow Hope in your life to bring inspiration. This book launch comes in the middle of a personal family tragedy of the Turpin Case where Tricia Andreassen is Louise Turpin's cousin.

#1 Best Selling Author Tricia Andreassen

"I know this may sound unusual to some but I know beyond a shadow of a doubt that God gave me the inspiration to put together a book on Hope. The title came to me the winter of 2016 as I was processing my own chapters of my life coming through abuse and times of darkness. I felt this book could let others know that even when you feel like all hope may be lost there is a way to rekindle the flame and build your hope to help you make it through the worst of times. I had no idea that this book would launch in the middle of my own family disaster."

Hope is something we must have to keep going even in the darkest moments where we see not light in sight."

Tricia Andreassen

The book Reigniting Hope is a compilation of stories from multiple Authors who share their personal stories of overcoming moments of challenge and how they have overcome. "These Authors have literally become a pillar of Hope for me," Comments Andreassen. "During this difficult time in supporting my cousin Elizabeth and crying myself to sleep, I would reach out to these Authors and they would pray with me."

The Authors involved in this project are from all walks of life from corporate leaders, to school guidance counselors, technical architect, suicide prevention specialists, leadership coaches, and those retired from their careers. This is why this book is so powerful," states Andreassen. "It reaches the hearts of every person who can relate to moments where hope is lost and how we often have to fight to keep hope alive."

Just this week Andreassen and her cousin Elizabeth Flores (the sister of Louise Turpin) were interviewed on Good Morning Britian about the case and how they are working diligently to be a strong pillar of hope for the children in however they can serve for years to come. "Our hope is to raise funds through our books to be able to provide resources to these children and to children all over the world that face challenges. We must bring them HOPE."

The book has just launched and is available on Amazon at www.ReignitingHope.com. Funds from the sale of this book were established (prior to the Turpin Case) to go to Rising Hope Farms in North Carolina that provides trauma and physical therapy to children through equine therapy. Her hope is to establish a non profit to be able to help others all over the world.

Creative Life Publishing and Learning Institute is dedicated to providing faith based leadership, life skills and teachings.
