

Bollywood Singer Aditi Sri Sets Sights on Hollywood

Bollywood Singer Aditi Sri Sets Sights on Hollywood, with the release of two searing new songs, titled "Shine," and "On Your Own."

MALIBU, CALIFORNIA, USA, March 13, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Beginning singing and performing when she was just five years old, Aditi is not your average American pop singer. The seventeen year-old Indian-American girl is classically trained; not only in Indian music, but also in Western contemporary pop. Beginning performing live in the ancient temples of India, as well as in some of the big Bollywood Shows, Aditi now calls America home, where she is eager to become a rapidly rising role model for young girls not only in the U.S, but around the world. Exactly how and why did she follow this path?

Her name itself; Aditi, is reportedly a special Indian name meaning "An Angel." It is also, ironically, a slang word for a girl who is picked on, yet is beautiful, and a surprise gift to the world, with the smile of an Aditi reportedly being the greatest smile of any female. Not fitting the age-old Hollywood trend of suffering for beauty with starving or other means, Aditi is reportedly like every girl across America—and the world; A normal teenager, with passion in her heart, shouting to be heard--and above all—respected.

Smashing stereotypes, phobias, and discrimination with that magical smile, the seventeen year old is also anything but ordinary. There is after all—that voice. Aditi reveals, "I have always loved to sing, it just completes me. Every time I'm performing, it feels like I am surrounded by magic!" She confesses, "Singing is what I wanted to do since I was a kid. It has always been my dream to have my own album, and to share it with the world. I am thankful now that finally that dream is coming true. And I want to remind kids out there everywhere, your dreams can come true too. Just believe in yourself and follow through!"

Aditi admits about her early start, "Growing up as a child for me was really great. I moved to America at an early age, so I got to see many places in the U.S. over the years. The happiest time I can remember as a child was when I performed for the first time." She loves California, which she calls home, where she says "Everything is great here! I love the weather here, and the people!" Yet she still also remains strong to her roots in India. "I love the traditions they have for every festival in India," she says, "Everything there is very grand, especially the temples! And I love Bollywood music, especially Asha Bhosle, who creates such beautiful variations in her voice!"

Aditi also loves American pop music, which she sings. Regarding music's biggest awards show, with the Grammy's this year, Aditi says, "It was remarkable. Most of my friends watched the show and they were delighted by it too. I loved every moment of the show, and of course would love to be part of it one day. My favorite performance this year was Kesha. She gave an astonishing performance! I am looking forward to hopefully seeing Adele perform again on the show soon."

Striving to serve as a role model for kids out there, Aditi says, "I actually think the biggest problem in my generation is that too many of us are addicted to our phones and electronic devices. Social Media is a distraction for many kids. I'm not perfect with this myself, but I like to get out in the world and see people. I also like interior decorating, showing my own style; and cooking; I make a great pasta!"

Concerning what inspires her; Rosa Parks has greatly influenced the young singer, teaching her freedom and independence as a female and a minority. Mahatma Gandhi has also had a profound impact on the singer, with Aditi's spirituality informing her world-view, and her mission. "The world, to me," she says "is a place to explore wonderful things that God has created for us. God created this beautiful world for us to live in, and can protect us from any harm in our way. I'm here with my music to spread that wisdom of Parks and Gandhi—and to spread that love."

Regarding her latest two new singles, reviews have already stated, "Shine" is the perfect new anthem for young girls around the world and across America-- an infectious dance song. "On Your Own" is a dark, beautiful pop song; expertly crafted. Both are released by an exciting new singer named Aditi; a truly talented young Indian American who hails from Hollywood--and she's just 17 years old. --b.e; News Blaze dot com
