

Meanwise Announces Launch of Initial Coin Offering Campaign in April

Meanwise, the live online resume builder for top creative professionals, is set to launch an Initial Coin Offering (ICO) campaign during the month of April.

BURBANK, CA, USA, March 14, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Meanwise, the live online resume builder for top creative professionals, is set to launch an Initial Coin Offering (ICO) campaign during the month of April.

We believe in our product and its future very strongly, and we are interesting in finding enthusiastic investors to assist us.”

Hilal Agil

The Meanwise executive team will promote the ICO - in order to raise capital for R&D of the upcoming Meanwise Talent Marketplace that aims to disrupt the Freelance Industry - with profile-raising roadshow stops in Singapore, Dubai, Geneva, London, Berlin and Tallinn, Estonia.

“We believe in our product and its future very strongly, and we are interesting in finding enthusiastic investors to assist us in developing new technologies to further our customer base and company growth,” said Meanwise CEO Hilal Agil.

Users will be rewarded with Cryptocurrency for endorsements on Meanwise. The system is designed in a way where the credits are calculated based on the Endorser's reputation, which would depend on his/her background and experience.

Advantages Meanwise has to offer include:

- A Credits System built on Blockchain, where users certify their skills through non-traditional means, such as proof of work from industry leaders. This system would make it easier for people to prove their abilities and make hiring easier
- Using Biometric Verification to verify our user Identities (launching in early April)
- AR-based Visual Search that can potentially change the way we network (coming late April)
- Verifiable history of transactions made via the Meanwise Talent Marketplace, through the use of Blockchain Smart Contracts to prevent fraud (coming in mid-May as part of the ICO)

More pertinent materials on the ICO and the Meanwise Token, including the Whitepaper and schedule, will be released in April.

ABOUT MEANWISE:

Meanwise is a free, mobile-based iOS app that offers a live résumé' format for business professionals in creative fields such as Design, Music, Film, Photography, Sports, Tech and more, in order to showcase their talents and abilities, as well as a visual display of current creative work - a social media platform specifically designed for discovering career and industry networking opportunities.

Meanwise is based in Los Angeles, founded by Maldivians Hilal Agil and Mohamed Shamheed with the shared goal of providing a digital alternative to the traditional resume, an end-to-end solution for people to prove their individual skills, built on the Blockchain platform, enabling users with diverse skillsets to build a profile where they can validate their abilities with stackable credits.

The social resume is ideal for Graphic Designers, Architects, Interior Designers, Photographers, Actors, Models, Musicians, Chefs, Fashion Designers, and anybody looking to join the workforce or the gig economy whose efforts are best shown visually.
