Statement by Jeff Micklos, Executive Director, Health Care Transformation Task Force

WASHINGTON, USA, March 15, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- "The Health Care Transformation Task Force (HCTTF) welcomes the launch of the Health Care Innovation Caucus. At this critical moment in the healthcare industry, the caucus will bring much needed leadership on the issues facing the U.S. healthcare system. As the industry continues to transition to value-based care models, the caucus's leadership will be paramount in exploring and advancing federal policies promoting successful patient-centered innovative payment models and technologies and outcome measures that support these models.

"As leading voices on value-based payment and care delivery transformation, HCTTF members recognize all too well the need for a sweeping revolution of the health care system. It's our hope that the Caucus will be a guiding force in leading that revolution."
