Stevens Creek Volkswagen Offering Free Tire Rotation Every 5,000 Miles
Customers Are Not Required to Make a Purchase to Get the Offer

San Jose, CA: Stevens Creek Volkswagen is offering their customers free tire rotations every 5,000 miles with no purchase necessary. This is one of the dealership's many special offers. This deal is meant to encourage auto owners in the San Jose area to stay on top of their vehicle's maintenance needs. It is generally recommended that a vehicle have its tires rotated every 5,000 miles, but many owners often do not keep track of how long they've been driving since they purchased their car or how long it's been since their last tire rotation. By waiving the service charge for a tire rotation, Stevens Creek Volkswagen hopes that more auto owners will have their car's tires rotated on a regular basis.

Tire rotation is an important part of vehicle maintenance. The process involves removing each one of the car's tires and reinstalling them in a new position. This ensures that all tires wear evenly, helping to extend the life of the car's tires. If a car owner decides not to rotate their tires, some tires will wear down faster, limiting their lifespan and efficiency on the road. Vehicle owners will have to replace their tires sooner if they do not get them rotated at least every 5,000 miles. This can lead to unexpected break downs, emergency repairs, and the owner may even have to get their vehicle towed if one of their tires falls apart as a result of excessive wear and tear. These services can be quite costly, so Stevens Creek Volkswagen recommends all auto owners have their tires rotated on a regular basis.

As one of the leading car dealerships in San Jose, Stevens Creek Volkswagen is proud to serve auto owners throughout the local community. San Jose is not known for its public transportation, so many members of the community are made to rely on their vehicles as their main form of transportation. Offering free tire rotations is a way for the dealership to give back to the community, helping drivers curb their maintenance expenses in a way that extends the life of their vehicle. Customers do not have to make a purchase. They just need to show that they have driven 5,000 miles since they purchased their car or since their last tire rotation. This is just one of the many ways in which Stevens Creek Volkswagen is promoting good driving habits among its customers.
