Staff from 2pass Clinic, located in Antwerp, Belgium, will travel to London on March 24, 2018 to provide breast augmentation consultations.

ANTWERP, BELGIUM, March 19, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- 2pass Clinic is heralded as one of the world's leading providers of procedures and treatments for male-to-female transgender patients. On March 24, 2018, members of the 2pass team will travel to London to offer breast augmentation consultations to patients in England and other parts of the world.

Breasts are an iconic female feature, and because of this, they are one of the most desirable aspects involved in transitioning from male to female. For some, larger breasts boost self-confidence and lend to their female identities. Thanks to hormones like estrogen, women have larger breasts than men. While hormone treatments can assist in the growth of natural breast tissue, transgender women naturally have much broader chests and shoulders. Because of this, obtaining a proportional appearance often requires a much larger cup size than hormones alone can provide. Breast augmentation surgery is the best option, and 2pass Clinic has the expertise and reputation to provide natural, beautiful breasts.

2pass Clinic, located in Antwerp, Belgium, is a leading provider of breast augmentation procedures for male-to-female transgender patients who want to boost their image and femininity. Patients who live locally can attend consultations in Antwerp every week on Tuesdays. However, this month, Dr. Maarten Doornaert will travel to London, England to offer consultations to patients in this area, as well. During the consultation, patients will discuss the surgery in detail with the surgeon. Patients can relay their expectations to Dr. Doornaert, who can provide a list of possibilities. Patients will also be able to determine whether they want liposculpture or implants, and they will have the opportunity to get to know the surgeon.

About the Company: 2pass Clinic is one of the globe's top providers of procedures and services for male-to-female transgender patients. They offer facial and body feminization surgeries, hair removal, voice training, and more to help these individuals discover their true feminine selves. With the help of 2pass Clinic's renowned surgeons and outstanding medical team, hundreds of patients have completed their transformations and ensured their outward appearances reflect their inner identities.
